B34: Hazardous Goods Exclusion

The Public and products liability cover section of this Policy does not cover liability in respect of claims arising directly or indirectly out of or caused by or in connection with the transportation, storage, loading or unloading of Dangerous Goods (which expression includes but is not limited to chemicals, explosives, gases and flammable liquids, flammable solids, oxidising substances, toxic and infectious substances, radioactive material, corrosive substances, or other miscellaneous Dangerous Goods defined in various Australian Dangerous Goods codes).

This exclusion does not apply where:

- (a) In respect of Dangerous Goods in storage, where this is "Minor storage", as defined under Australian Standards AS1940 - 1993; or
- (b) the Dangerous Goods being transported are a "retail distribution load", a "tool of trade load" or as a "non commercial transport load" as defined under the Australian Dangerous Goods Code 7th Edition. In respect to loading or unloading the aggregate quantity on the vehicle is the determining factor not the quantity actually being loaded or unloaded.
